Who can Apply
Teachers (holding permanent posts) and registered Research Scholars from Universities/Colleges/Institutes located in the North-Eastern states of India can apply. Participants should have good knowledge of statistics and some experience of working on computers. Preference will be given to postgraduate degree holders in Statistics.

Attendance in all sessions of the programme is mandatory.

How to Apply
Applications should be sent by February 28, 2013 through proper channel as per enclosed format to Prof. Smarajit Bose, Bayesian & Interdisciplinary Research Unit, Indian Statistical Institute, 203 Barrackpore Trunk Road, Kolkata 700108.

To expedite matters, scanned copies of the completed application sent by email to smarajit@isical.ac.in will also be accepted.

Selected candidates will be informed of their selection by e-mail by March 1, so applicants MUST provide e-mail addresses. Applications that are not complete in all respects shall not be entertained.

Accommodation and Food
Outstation participants will be paid a maximum of Rs. 1000 per day (for up to four days) for meeting their boarding and lodging expenses, subject to production of actual bills and attendance in all sessions of the programme. Outstation participants may have to make their own arrangements for boarding and lodging, though there is some possibility that the organizers may be able to provide accommodation on a first-come-first-served basis. There is no daily allowance for local participants. Working lunch and snacks will be provided to all participants free of cost on all three days.

Travelling Allowance
Outstation participants will be reimbursed for return fare by train (AC 3-tier)/ bus by the shortest route, subject to submission of ticket or money receipt.

NO PAYMENT SHALL BE MADE WITHOUT PROPER SUPPORTING DOCUMENTS.

NO CERTIFICATE OF PARTICIPATION WILL BE AWARDED WITHOUT FULL ATTENDANCE.
