Objective

The primary goal of the Indo-Japan conference on Perception and Machine Intelligence (PerMin'12) is to address the main issues of theoretical, generic and applied areas of Machine Intelligence and Perception Engineering, encourage academic and industrial interaction, and promote collaborative research activities. The conference invites the researchers to participate and contribute to the international forum for the dissemination and exchange of up-to-date scientific information on different areas of Machine Intelligence and Perception Engineering through the following modes of communication: Keynote/Plenary Talk(s), Oral Presentations, and Poster Presentations.

Paper submission

Original papers addressing challenging problems in the areas of perception engineering, human computer interaction (HCI) and machine intelligence are invited including but not just limited to the following:

1. Pattern recognition and perception
2. Human computer interaction (HCI) techniques and devices
3. Computational theory of perception (CTP)
4. Cognitive systems: Vision and Auditory
5. Perception based E-nose and E-tongue
6. Speech processing and analysis
7. Video abstraction and aesthetics detection
8. Approximate reasoning
9. Behavioral modeling

Proceeding

The conference proceeding will be published from LNCS, Springer. Papers should be six to eight A4 pages (including figures and tables) complete with authors' affiliations. For one or two extra pages, the authors should pay extra 50 USD per page. Manuscripts must be prepared with LaTeX2e (use Springer class file llncs2e.zip).

See authors' instruction in <http://www.springer.de/comp/lnes/authors.html>

Submission Procedure

Submissions must be made online through EasyChair following the submission link:
